SEC Issues Proposed Crypto Assets Regulation.

SEC issued a proposed rule to create a tailored offering regime for certain investment contracts involving crypto assets. The proposed rule is intended to facilitate capital formation and accommodate innovation within the crypto asset markets while ensuring that investors are adequately protected and provided with the information they need to make informed investment decisions. The proposed rule would be set forth in a new regulation titled, Regulation Crypto Assets, and would include two exemptions from the registration requirements of section 5 of the Securities Act. The first exemption would permit offerings of up to $5 million during a four-year period. The second exemption would permit offerings of up to $75 million during each 12-month period. Under both exemptions, issuers would be required to make certain principles-based narrative disclosures available to their investors. In addition, issuers under the second exemption would be required to provide financial statements and would be subject to ongoing reporting requirements. Issuers that rely on the exemptions would remain subject to the anti-fraud and anti-manipulation provisions of the Federal securities laws. The proposed rule also would include a conditional safe harbor from the term "investment contract" in the definition of "security" in the Securities Act and the Securities Exchange Act. If the conditions of that proposed safe harbor are satisfied, a crypto asset would be deemed not to be subject to an investment contract for purposes of the definitions of "security." Comments are due 10/20/2026. SEC Proposes Amendments to Transfer Agent Rule.

SEC proposes to adopt new rules, amend existing rules, amend the existing form for registration as a transfer agent and the existing form for reporting activities of transfer agents, and rescind an existing rule governing registered transfer agents. The proposed rule may be viewed at: https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2026-09-04/pdf/2026-18190.pdf. Federal Register, Vol. 91, No. 171, 09/04/2026, 56946-57061.

SEC Proposes to Rescind Political Contributions Rule.

SEC proposes to rescind the political contribution rule under the Investment Advisers Act, which prohibits investment advisers from providing investment advisory services for compensation to a government client for two years after an adviser or any covered associate of the adviser makes a contribution to certain categories of elected officials or candidates, among other prohibitions. SEC stated it is of the view that other requirements of the Investment Advisers Act and its associated rules, including prohibitions on fraud, fiduciary duty requirements, compliance rule, and code of ethics rule (defined in the proposed rule), are likely sufficient to address pay-to-play practices while allowing an adviser the flexibility to implement an approach that is more appropriately tailored to its particular risks, rendering the political contribution rule unnecessary. SEC also proposed to amend the rule under the Investment Advisers Act pertaining to books and records consistent with the proposed rescission. Comments are due 11/09/2026.
